For example, personal information may be collected from you when you sign up for our newsletter, provide us with a donation, or participate in an online promotion.

SHARING OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

We may share personal information with certain selected companies. Those selected companies are either our partners who perform a function or are agencies and suppliers whom we have retained to assist us to more effectively fulfil our works, collect donations, provide technical assistance and support and perform other functions to support our activities.

All selected companies may have access to personal information if needed to perform such functions but will only be permitted by us to use such personal information for the purpose of performing that function (which may include one to which you have expressly given your consent) and not for any other purpose.

In all cases, any use of your personal information by any such party which use has been instigated by us (as opposed, for example, to a promotional partner), will comply with this policy and with data protection legislation.

Also, we reserve the right to use or disclose any information as needed to satisfy any law, regulation or legal request, to protect the integrity of the site, to fulfil your requests, or to cooperate in any law enforcement or regulatory investigation. Save for this and as detailed above, we do not sell, transfer or disclose personal information we have collected from you in connection with our web site activities, to third parties.

We may offer links to sites that are not operated by FASD Awareness SE. If you visit one of these linked sites, you should review their privacy and other policies. We are not responsible for the policies and practices of other companies.

We may transfer the data that we collect from you to a destination outside the European Economic Area ("EEA"). By submitting your personal data to us, you agree to this transfer, storing or processing.

OUR PRIVACY POLICY REGARDING CHILDREN

Where we know or have reason to believe a child is under 12 our policy is not to collect personal information from them unless for a specific activity where the child's parent or guardian has first provided written consent to that specific activity.

Where we know or have reason to believe a child is under 16 we will not collect (nor encourage any child to give) more detailed information, than is needed by us to facilitate that child's selected activities, without first obtaining the written consent of a parent or guardian. Our policy is that our online activities will not generally involve the publishing of any personal data relating to a child under 16 on our web site without that child's parent's or guardian's written consent. We urge parents to regularly monitor and supervise their children's online activities.
